

Roof and Deck Snow Load Removal

This service is extremely, physically demanding. Many of our clients are just not capable or interested about climbing up onto their roof and removing the potentially risky, snow load on their residence. Other clients are not at their cottage residence on a regular basis in the winter to complete these tasks themselves.

We offer this strenuous service but have very strict criteria. Any clients must sign up with us prior to the seasons first snowfall. It is essential that we identify and document where all of your roof top vents and pipes are located.

Inexperienced, unaware snow removal contractors have ruined many snow hidden roof top vents by walking over them, crushing/breaking through or pushing a snow shovel into the vent.

We are experienced Contractors. When completing our Homeowner Snow Removal Service, we always leave 6"-8" on the roof top protecting the roofing material and ensuring no vent damage.
